NEW COURSE IN 2019!
PAD 768: GOVERNING THE JUST CITY: URBAN POLICY AND POLITICS
SPRING 2019: MONDAYS, 6:00 – 8:00 PM
HYBRID (IN-CLASS + ON-LINE)

Instructor: Professor Leigh Graham, PHD
PAD 768 is a new required course for the MPA-PPA Urban Affairs specialization.
PAD 768 is also a public management elective open to all M.P.A. Candidates.

Description: This course explores how to lead and foster a just city. We begin with a historical look of U.S. urban policy and governance, followed by a focus on key topics for municipal leaders and stakeholders, including housing, crime, inequality, diversity, employment, education and health. We will utilize scholarship, media, data, and fieldwork on contemporary urban issues to familiarize students with urban policy challenges, enabling you to tailor your subsequent specialization electives at Hunter or Queens Colleges to your professional and scholarly interests.

Course Goals and Objectives
- Demonstrate the knowledge, skills and competencies of urban governance.
- Understand political, economic, demographic, and geographic influences on urban policymaking.
- Understand how public service values of diversity, equity, efficiency, and accountability shape urban governance and policymaking.
